

Garbanzo Literary Journal #2

A literary journal like no other, Garbanzo seeks to open the loudspeaker of storytelling to all those who pour forth their heart and soul into the ink that longs for the page. Based neither on one's prior conquests, nor their lineage of authorial name, our book features a mix of forty-four tale-tellers both new and seasoned, loquacious and brief, serious and witty and utilizing the form and format of stories, poems, essays and...

Abe Aamidor
A.E. Reiff
A.J. Huffman
Alessandro Cusimano
Allie Marini Batts
Amy Nawrocki
Ariane Peveto
Bahar Anooshahr
Barbara E. Baldwin
Benedikt Sebastian
Brooke Bailey
Claude Clayton Smith
Dan Pinkerton
Danielle Kral
Darren Demaree
De Jackson
Errol Miller
Jacqueline Peveto
J.P. McNamara
J.C. Vickery
Jeff Tigchelaar
Joan Thornton

John Grey
John Stocks
Karen Brand
Ken Poyner
Larry Lefkowitz
Lily Murphy
Mark Farrell
Mary Shanley
Matthew Wilson
Ned Randle
Peggy Aylsworth
Robin Collins
S. Frederic Liss
Sabra Bowers
Stacy Rollins
Steve Flachsbart
Steve Newton
Steven Bevington
Steven Nova
Susan Dale
Taylor Graham
Valentina Cano

ISBN 978-0-9846464-0-1

storytellers...
bookbinders...
mythmakers...
defenders of the ephemeral arts

bethel, ct. - houston, tx.
& all around the world
for wherever books are longed

(832) 515 - 9539

storyteller@
garbanzoliteraryjournal.org

www.seraphemera.org

www.garbanzoliteraryjournal.org

Garbanzo is another entry into the canon of the Quiescence series of chapbooks -- hand-created books that are rivet bound, silk bookmarked, screen-printed dust-jacketed, and individually numbered. There are, without a doubt, no other books being created in this way, anywhere, within a solar system or three.

Garbanzo (book two) will be available on February 9th, 2013. The book is 148 pages and is limited to 304 6/10ths printed copies. A digital version is available via the iBookstore soon after the tangible release.

The book retails for $20.00. Presales will begin late January.